DETAILED ACTION

This application is a 371 of PCT/FR05/00070.

Claims 1-14 and 16-49 are pending.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-14,16-17 and 22-49 drawn to a method of preparing a microorganism comprising a deletion of the tpiA gene and a deletion of at least one gene involved in the conversion of methylglyoxal into lactate.

Group II, claim(s) 18-21, drawn to a method of preparing 1,2-propanediol using the microorganism of Group I.

The inventions listed as Groups I-II do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

The technical feature linking Groups I-II appears to be that they all relate to a microorganism comprising a deletion of the tpiA gene and a deletion of at least one gene involved in the conversion of methylglyoxal into lactate.

However, Cameron et al. (US Patent NO. 6,303,352 B1 – form PTO-892) discloses a microorganism comprising a deletion of the tpiA gene for the production of 1,2-propanediol and deletion of gene involved in the conversion of methylglyoxal into lactate (glyoxalase) (Column 6, lines 16-42 and Figure 1).

Therefore, the technical feature linking the inventions of Groups I-II does not constitute a special technical feature as defined by PCT Rule 13.2, as it does not define a contribution over the prior art.

The special technical feature of Group I is a method of preparing a microorganism comprising a deletion of the tpiA gene and a deletion of at least one gene involved in the conversion of methylglyoxal into lactate.

The special technical feature of Group II is a method of preparing 1,2-propanediol using the microorganism a deletion of the tpiA gene and a deletion of at least one gene involved in the conversion of methylglyoxal into lactate.

Accordingly, Groups I-II are not so linked by the same or a corresponding special technical feature as to form a single general inventive concept.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
